SentryLock's REALTOR® Lockbox NXT Now the Most Tested Lockbox Solution in the Real Estate Industry

Rigorously Tested and Certified to Standards Set by the FCC, Underwriters Laboratories, and Others, SentryLock Raises the Bar to Benefit the Entire Industry

CINCINNATI--(BUSINESS WIRE)--SentryLock (<http://www.sentrylock.com>, <http://www.sentrylock.ca> and <http://www.sentrylock.mobi>), the fastest-growing and number-one rated provider of electronic lockbox systems for the residential real estate industry, today announced four industrial and government standards from key independent testing laboratories. The testing certifies SentryLock's REALTOR® Lockbox NXT meets or exceeds the standards set by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL), Industry Canada (IC) and Reduction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) certification.

These prestigious certifications further set SentryLock apart from the competition by establishing it as the most tested electronic lockbox solution, having received the highest levels of standards compliance of any similar product on the market.

Following months of comprehensive testing conducted on every major aspect of its flagship product, REALTOR® Lockbox NXT, SentryLock raised the bar for the entire industry by ensuring compliance with the following standards:

- Underwriters Laboratories (UL) – SentryLock received certification in the anti-theft alarms and devices' category UL1037 ATJT.BP10347
- Federal Communications Commission (FCC) – SentryLock secured accreditation for radio emissions compliance FCC-CFR-47 Part 15
- Industry Canada (IC) – SentryLock was recognized for its radio emissions compliance
- Reduction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) Certification – Certifies the REALTOR Lockbox NXT Wireless as a greener product by virtue of being free of lead, cadmium and mercury

"Without a doubt, SentryLock's REALTOR® Lockbox NXT has been tested by more independent organizations than any product of its kind, putting it in a class of its own as the most-tested and accredited lockbox available to real estate brokers and agents," said Scott Fisher, CEO and a Co-Founder of SentryLock. "SentryLock's commitment to security, safety, emissions compliance and reliability, have all been independently validated. Additionally, we have worked hard to ensure the industry's most green and environmentally friendly lockbox by meeting RoHS (Reduction of Hazardous Substances) requirements. In doing so, real estate professionals can now be part of a global effort to ensure lead, cadmium and mercury do not enter the environment."

The testing and certifications mark the latest in a string of accomplishments for SentryLock in 2009, which has proven to be a chart topper for the company. In addition to the recent certifications, SentryLock ranked highest in customer satisfaction in a national lockbox survey. This is the third straight year the company has come out on top in two separate national lockbox surveys.

"I am thrilled that my association, its brokers and our agents are using SentryLock and its industry-leading REALTOR® Lockbox NXT solution," said Christine Todd, CEO of the Northern Virginia Association of REALTORS®. "These certifications from highly respected independent firms further underscore why we chose a company that fully understands the needs of brokers and agents and is committed to ensuring my members are getting the best product and service available at a very competitive cost."
